The My Tree Project grew from 11-year-old Maxim sitting and reading in his mulberry tree. He told his grandmother Lara Lamnek that this made him feel creative and energetic. From this grew the idea of the My Tree Project, an endeavour taken up and managed by WACRA and AAEE.

In 2023-24, primary and high school students sowed seeds to grow trees and understory. From Schools Tree Day 26 July 2024, these students will plant the seedlings at their school and in the community. They also made artworks about the meaning of trees, shown in this exhibition.

The My Tree Project enables children to be creative and play an active role in dealing with the serious local impact of our environmental situation.

The project is funded by Charles Sturt Council, AAEE and Rail Care.
